Digital Media (Visualizations, Apps, & Media Systems)

- 2017 R-Shief 5.0 software apps and cloud computing architecture
- 2015 Collaborated with Alex Juhasz in building the online portals and interfaces for Ev-ent-angle-ment. The ev-ent-angle-ment digitally entangles fragments from this event with those of four previous events experienced over the past year in Utrecht, Delhi, Dublin, and Montreal where I also collected participants' fragments and stitched and re-stitched them together as I moved forward and back—from Utrecht to Dehli, Dublin, Montreal, LA—and also always online
- 2014 #Gaza Audio-Visual Narrative by a Cyborg: Images by Hashtag, an online interactive mosaic of images tweeted on the bombing of Gaza
- 2013- 2015 R-Shief 3.0 and 4.0, an archival and visualizing media system up to 26 billion social media posts (Twitter, Facebook, Instagram, YouTube, and sites) in more than seventy languages. Software applications:
- Kal3a is an open source application stack that collects, stores, and indexes the social media content that supports R-Shief's research.
  - Hashtag Visualizer displays trending words over time with frequency counts. The graphs can be exported, and are fully interactive.
  - The Hashtag Trends Widget measures trending words in real-time. This widget can be embedded anywhere as an iframe.
  - The Arabic Smart Engine is an open source tool that feeds two APIs. The Arabic Text Analysis API is a text analyzer of Arabic content that uses Wikipedia as its knowledge base to show various occurrences.
  - The Arabic Sentiment API will accept short Arabic Text, basically a tweet. It then will identify the related sentiment by analyzing the text taking into consideration several Arabic language rules.
- 2010 Twitterminer software application that data mines Twitter by hashtag
- 2010-2012 Under the name VJ Um Amel, produced over one hundred works of cultural analytics as video remix and data visualizations published across platforms including Jadaliyya.com, The Levantine Center, Mrzine, SMEX, Tiber, Henry Jenkins Blog.
- 2009 Commissioned for art direction and lead design for The Prince Alwaleed Bin Talal Islamic Studies's Islamopedia project at Harvard University
- 2007 Designed user interface using Drupal theming for Merip.org
